

Read with Mr R

Hello everyone, hope you are all well and happy.

I am going to be in touch from time to time to check in with you about your reading.

I might set some reading challenges, give you things to talk about, tell you about some great reading resources or websites that are out there and are worth visiting.

First I need to check that you are all reading something??

What book do you have on the go at the moment?

Remember you have your log in and password to the Shropshire Library E-book site where you can loan books for free.

Whatever you do make sure you keep reading. It is so important!

Talk about the book you are reading now.

Why did you choose it?

Do you know anything else by the same author?

What do you predict will happen in the story?

Practice reading aloud to someone in the family.

I will be in touch again soon.

So... keep reading!
