

Apostrophes

Apostrophes can be used to show that something belongs to someone or something. This is called possession.

More than one thing is also known as a plural. For example, a pack of wolves or a group of countries.

If the noun is plural and ends in -s, add only an apostrophe.
For example, the wolves' lunch was a deer.

If the noun is plural and does not end in -s, add -'s. For example, the geese's flight in formation was amazing.

Examples of Apostrophes with Possessive Plurals

The houses' chimneys are made from brick.
