

Holly wanted to take her 93 year old great grandma out for lunch as she was feeling lonely as she lives alone. We spent the afternoon at Bridgemere garden centre where we had lunch and spent time chatting and playing games while having lunch then had a look around the garden centre helping great grandma to get the bird food she needed, holly pushed the trolley and helped grandma put items in the trolley and we all had a look around the fish centre. It really cheered up great grandma who has been struggling with her back over the last few months which has been making her feel sad and making daily activities hard to complete especially going out and driving her car which has been hindering her independence.
